

I am issuing a formal complaint against the imminent plan to repeal Title II protections. In recent years, the internet has become a vital tool of public life, hence why it was labeled a public utility in 2015. Repealing this protection would put the integrity of the internet in jeopardy. Please do not move backward on this issue.